SEPARATE DOUGHNUTS. INSERT BACON.

SANDWICH COMBO?

Dunkin' Donuts wants to sell you a doughnut sandwich.

Hitting stores Friday, the breakfast item is composed of a fried egg, bacon and two glazed doughnuts. It has 360 calories, according to the company website. That's 60 more than an Egg McMuffin at McDonald's.

Coming on the heels of the news that McDonald's is offering egg-white substitutes on any of its breakfast items, a glazed-donut sandwich at Dunkin' would appear to be running counter to a healthier-eating America.

"We've seen the savory and sweet combination becoming more and more popular," Stan Frankenthaler, executive chef and vice president of Global Product Innovation at Dunkin', said in an article posted on the company site, pointing to success with its waffle breakfast sandwich and pancake bites.

"We want to help guests discover their love of combining sweet and savory; and I think the Glazed Donut Breakfast Sandwich is a great way to do that," he said. "If this trend continues, we'd love to explore more options to offer additional menu items with these flavor combinations."

The Canton, Mass.-based chain did not immediately respond to requests for comment.

Since the CTA cut some bus service by her Lakeview home in December, Jennifer Burgess has abandoned one of her weekend rituals: brunching at Wishbone, shopping at Whole Foods and visiting Dinkel's bakery—all off Lincoln Avenue.

"We haven't done that since they cut the buses," said Burgess, 40. "It's too much.... We wouldn't want to haul those bags to the Brown Line."

This month will mark six months since the CTA eliminated No. 11 Lincoln Avenue bus service between the Western and Fullerton stations as part of a controversial so-called systemwide decrowding plan.

On Dec. 16, the CTA added rush-hour service to 48 bus routes and all but two rail lines. About a dozen partial or full bus routes were cut.

Last month, the agency called the decrowding plan a success because the extra service has reduced the sardine feeling on some buses and trains. But it's unclear whether the decrowding is working because of the extra service or because of fewer riders. About 4.9 million fewer people rode the CTA this year through April, compared with the same period last year, according to agency ridership reports. That's a 2.8 percent decrease.

Some residents and business owners near Lincoln Avenue wouldn't call the service changes a success.

Burgess can rattle off a half-dozen bars and restaurants she and her husband, Jeff Heath, 33, no longer patronize because of the extra time it takes to walk three-tenths of a mile to the Di-

Burgess and Heath, who don't have a car, said they find themselves using Peapod, a grocery home-delivery service. Burgess said the cuts have "definitely made where we live less attractive to me."

As the owner of Heritage Bicycles General Store, Michael Salvatore said his business hasn't been affected by the Lincoln cuts because his company is new so all he's seen is growth. Salvatore, 32, also lives above his shop on Lincoln Avenue.

"Personally, it sucks," Salvatore said. "We're just relying more on our bikes now."

Salvatore said he's talked to a few prospective Lincoln Avenue business owners who said the loss of No. 11 service is a hurdle to setting up shop.

But Heather Way, executive director of the Lakeview Chamber of Commerce, said businesses are still taking a "keen interest" in Lincoln Avenue, though the cut "hasn't been easy for a lot of people."

"In general, we made it through the winter," Way said. "I think winter was probably the truest test, and we're just going to see where we go from here."

PLACE YOUR BLACKHAWKS BETS: CHICAGO VS. L.A.

Now we're getting serious.

On Saturday, the mayor's office posted a letter on its Facebook page from Mayor Emanuel to L.A. Mayor Antonio Villaraigosa, offering up a "bounty" of gifts the city of Chicago will bestow unto the city of L.A. in the unlikely case that the Kings defeat the Blackhawks in this playoff series. Villaraigosa reciprocated the offer on his office's Facebook page with a similar bounty list.

They're both really long-winded and super jargony, so here's the gist of it:

IF THE BLACKHAWKS LOSE,
WE SEND:

25 Italian beef sandwiches from Al's Italian Beef

3 cases of Goose Island 312 Lager beer

One case of Robinson's Ribs Barbecue Sauce, containing the flavors Original, Brown Sugar and Hot.

25 Slices of Eli's Cheesecake—a "hat trick" of Original, Strawberry and Chocolate Chip flavors.

One copy of "The Warmth of Other Suns: The Epic Story of America's Great Migration," for you to read in your forthcoming retirement.

One case of beer each from our very own Golden Road and Eagle Rock Breweries.

IF THE KINGS LOSE, WE GET:

9 #19 Pastrami Sandwiches from Langer's Deli

9 French Dip Sandwiches from Phillippe the Original

For the sandwiches, one case of Morehouse Mustard, the official mustard of the Los Angeles Dodgers. Speaking of baseball, when was the last time the Cubs were in the World Series?

One case of beer each from our very own Golden Road and Eagle Rock Breweries.

3 Hollenbeck Burritos from El Tepeyac Cafe, weighing in at five pounds each.

12 bottles of Sriracha Chili Sauce

And to ensure that you maintain your newfound inner peace, one copy of YogaWorks for Everybody DVD.

A reader noted the absence of our beloved Jeppson's Malort on this list, which, as we pointed out to @ChicagoMayor on Twitter, would actually be the perfect gift if the Blackhawks WIN this thing. Here's the response, which we actually have to agree with.

"Let's save that for the Stanley Cup, right?"

Who doesn't appreciate a friendly "my city is better than yours" sports bet? Props to the aides who most likely wrote both of these, by the way. JESSICA GALLIART IS REDEYE'S SOCIAL MEDIA LADY.

Could One Hour With This Doctor Give You The Answer To Your Disc Pain?

Now, in Downtown Chicago, IL one doctor has what may be the most important breakthrough in non-surgical back pain treatments. Before and after MRI studies have shown disc bulges shrink in size – even with the most painful cases of L4-L5 herniations.

If you've had disc problems for years, recently injured your back, or you're suffering with sciatica, you must hear about these new studies.

Scientific studies tell us that spinal discs are responsible for most of the aches and pains people suffer from. Discs act like a cushion between our backbones and allow for a space at each level so the nerves can exit the spinal column.

When these discs get injured or wear out from bad posture, they begin to degenerate and cause pain. Bulging and herniations begin to form, pressing on the nerve roots. If the herniations occur at L4-L5, they can severely compromise the large sciatic nerve, causing muscle weakness, tingling, and severe pain.

The most common invasive treatment for disc herniations is surgery. This costs quite a bit of money. Even with health insurance the patient is left with their own portion of the bill, in excess of $10,000-$15,000, and sometimes more. The recovery time and missed work can be anywhere from 3 to 6 months, not to mention the obvious severe risks associated with all surgery.

But here's the biggest problem...there is a high failure rate of back surgery. One medical study found that on average, 53% of L5-S1 back surgeries fail to produce relief of symptoms (International Orthop 1987.)

Before You Go Under The Knife And Opt For Spinal Surgery...

You should seriously consider a less invasive approach called spinal decompression.

Non-surgical spinal decompression is a new technology that has been proven to reverse disc herniations. It creates a vacuum effect on the disc, which pulls the disc back into its normal position and brings in a fresh blood supply to promote healing.

Spinal decompression treatments are very gentle. In fact, every once in awhile I even catch a patient sleeping during sessions.

You'll simply lie on your stomach or back, whichever is comfortable, and then a specialized belt is gently put around your waist. We'll set the machine to focus on your problem area – then the advanced decompression computer system will do the rest. Most patients feel better with just a few treatments, and best of all there will be no dangerous drugs, no invasive procedures, and no painful exercises.

The Research Behind This Treatment

One clinical study has shown non-surgical spinal decompression to be extremely successful (good or excellent relief) in 86% of patients with herniated discs and degenerative joint disease – without the side effects.

Another study presented at the American Academy of Pain Management in 2007 showed...

"Patients reported a mean 88.9% improvement in back pain and better function...No patient required any invasive therapies (e.g. epidural injections, surgery)."

As you can see, spinal decompression has a high success rate with helping disc herniations, sciatica, and back pain. In just a matter of weeks you could be back on the golf course, enjoying your love life, or traveling again.

Here's What Our Patients Say...

"Before treatment on the Spinal Decompression Table I could not put very much weight on my left leg. I could not walk or stand for long periods of time and had tremendous pain in my lower back and down my left leg. Since having treatments the pain is gone! I can walk and put weight on my left leg. Would highly recommend and have told friends about my results."

Feel the Improvement – and Say "Yes" to Life Again

With my "Decompression Evaluation" we'll be able find the problem and then correct it. Think of how you'll feel in just a few short weeks. See and feel your life change for the better. Start your body on the way to pain-free, normal living. Feel tight joints rest, relax, free up. Feel muscles tied in knots become more supple. Feel strength in your muscles increase.

You're able to live life like a normal person again, without back pain – able to play with your kids, enjoy time with friends, and finally get a good night's rest.

FOR THOSE SUFFERING WITH HERNIATED LUMBAR DISCS, A NON-SURGICAL, DRUGLESS SOLUTION IS HELPING PATIENTS BE PAIN FREE.

The Single Most Important Solution To Your Sciatica and Back Pain

It's time for you to find out if spinal decompression will be your sciatic and back pain solution. For 10 days only, I'm running a very special offer where you can find out if you are a candidate for spinal decompression.

What does this offer include?

Everything I normally do in my new patient evaluation. Just call before June 17, 2013 and here's what you'll get...

- An in-depth consultation about your health and well-being where I will listen...really listen...to the details of your case.
- A complete neuromuscular examination.
- A full set of specialized x-rays to determine if a spinal problem is contributing to your pain or symptoms. These cost $125.
- A thorough analysis of your exam and x-ray findings so we can start mapping out your plan to being pain free.
- You'll get to see everything first hand and find out if this amazing treatment will be your pain solution, like it has been for so many other patients.

Until June 17, 2013 you can get everything I've listed here for only $35. The normal price for this type of evaluation including x-rays is $250, so you're saving $231 by taking me up on this offer.

Here's what to do now:

Due to the expected demand for this treatment, I suggest calling my office at once. The phone number is 312-212-1150.

Sincerely, Paul Ruzila, D.C.

Gay rights activists want lawmakers barred from Pride Parade march

Chicago Tribune

A movement is brewing to bar lawmakers from this year's Chicago Pride Parade as a show of frustration over the failure to bring a gay marriage bill to a vote in the Illinois House.

By Monday night, about 500 people had signed a petition—posted over the weekend on change.org—that proposes to “deny entry of Illinois politicians in [the] 44th Annual Chicago Pride Parade.”

“How could they not hear the people cry out for equality?” petition organizer Curtis Bumgarner wrote on the website. “So why should we be subjected to hear them cry out for votes and elections during our time of being proud of who we are and the battles we have overcome?”

Bumgarner said in an interview that he came up with the idea after he went on Facebook on Saturday morning and read of the outrage over the lack of a vote in the final hours of spring session Friday.

The bill, which cleared the Senate on Valentine’s Day and stalled in the House, would have changed the definition of marriage in Illinois from an act between a man and a woman to one between two people.

“People were asking, ‘why are politicians in our Pride parade when we don’t have anything to celebrate this year?’” Bumgarner said.

The petition will be delivered to parade organizer Richard Pfeiffer and to the Illinois state House, Bumgarner said. Pfeiffer did not respond to a request for comment.

Bumgarner said he would like to see parade organizers revoke lawmakers’ reserved spots in the parade, but he figures that kind of action is unlikely. A compromise, he said, would be to position lawmakers at the back of the parade instead of the front, where they usually march.

Parade coordinator Richard Pfeiffer and his group, PRIDEChicago, told chicagopride.com that only two state lawmakers are registered to participate in this year’s parade, and that there are no plans to remove lawmakers from the event.

The parade is scheduled for June 30.

Protests in Turkey expand, get violent

6 What started as a peaceful sit-in over plans to demolish a park in central Istanbul has grown to become the biggest protest movement against Turkish Prime Minister Recep Tayyip Erdogan since he was elected.

Gezi Park sits in Istanbul's main commercial district and is the last green space in the city center. So it didn't go down well with many residents when authorities announced intentions to raze the park and put in its place a replica of 19th-century Ottoman barracks—containing a shopping mall.

On Friday, a district court ordered a temporary stop to any construction. But many of the demonstrators say their anger no longer is directed against the proposed government plan. In Istanbul, the crowds have been chanting "Tayyip resign"—referring to Erdogan—and "shoulder to shoulder against fascism."

At first, the protests involved a handful of angry residents holding sit-ins, but the numbers quickly grew. Riot police moved in, lobbing tear gas and pepper spray. Protesters responded by hurling bottles, blocking bulldozers and setting up barricades. Then, outraged by the behavior of security forces, demonstrators began attacking police.

International human rights groups Amnesty International and Greenpeace have denounced what they describe as the excessive use of police force against peaceful protesters.

A spokesman for European Union foreign policy chief Catherine Ashton issued a statement that said Ashton "regrets disproportionate use of force by members of the Turkish police."

Erdogan conceded Saturday that Turkish security forces had made excessive use of tear gas against demonstrators: "There have been errors in the actions of the security forces, especially with regard to use of pepper gas. Right now that is being investigated, researched."

"Chicago's a tough team, dangerous team ... It happens, but I'm sure he'll be fine next game."

—Pittsburgh goalie Marc-Andre Fleury, on Kings goalie Jonathan Quick, who was benched in the second period of Game 2 on Sunday

More goalkeeping

The Blackhawks have signed Finnish goalie Antti Raanta to a one-year deal. Raanta, 24, earned a 21-10-11 record last season with Assat Pori of SM-liiga in Finland. He was put on the league's All-Star team and was named best goaltender as well as the MVP of the regular season and playoffs.

Corey Crawford has his team's back in goal and in a scuffle

By Leonor Vivanco | REDEYE

The puck stops with Corey Crawford.

In the first two games of the NHL's Western Conference finals against the defending Stanley Cup champion L.A. Kings, the 28-year-old Blackhawks goalie has recorded 50 saves and led his team to a 2-0 series lead.

Crawford has been nothing less than clutch during the playoffs, and his efforts—including a first-round shutout against Minnesota and a postseason-high 35 saves in Game 6 against Detroit—have not gone unnoticed by teammates or fans as the Hawks head to L.A. for Game 3 on Tuesday.

"He's been absolutely unbelievable for us," captain Jonathan Toews said. "It's one thing to play as good as he did early on, but I think the biggest thing is he hasn't shown any satisfaction. He keeps improving and he's as focused as he's ever been."

Crawford also has been the target of adoration from the United Center crowd, which chanted "Corey! Corey!" after a big save near the end of the second period of Sunday's 4-2 victory.

"It's pretty cool. We've had great fans for a while," Crawford said. "It's obviously nice when they're chanting and not booing you."

Not only has Crawford been protective of the net, but also of his teammates. Case in point: He broke up a skirmish involving Toews late in Sunday's game, again eliciting a "Corey! Corey!" chant from the fans.

"The guy grabbed him, got a couple free shots," Crawford said. "I figured it was enough. I just decided to go in there and grab his head."

Patrick Kane appreciated the effort.

LOS ANGELES: Hollywood.

PATRICK KANE

KINGS: Physical.
LOS ANGELES: Hollywood.

COREY CRAWFORD

KINGS: Solid team.

6 WINS TO GO

Meanwhile, the Kings will be looking to bounce back after the Hawks rattled goalie Jonathan Quick, who last season was awarded the Conn Smythe Trophy as the player most valuable to his team in the playoffs. The goalie was pulled from Game 2 in the second period.

Although Quick is the one whose name already is on the Stanley Cup, Crawford is holding his own.

In the playoffs, he leads the league in wins (10) and goals against average (1.57), and ranks second in save percentage (.938 to Quick's .940).

"He's playing great," Kane said. "To say it's a surprise and that we don't expect it from him, I'd be lying because it just seems to come natural now. I'm sure it's the same for their team. They expect that from Quick every night.

"[Crawford is] so big in the net, and it looks like nothing can get by him."

Patrick Sharp, who has gotten used to answering questions about Crawford this season, is on board.

"There's no question in our locker room," he said. "He's the guy we want in the net back there. He's proven it in the past. It's nice to see him finally get the credit that he deserves."

Filled with victory—
and vodka

1	Name one thing that hasn't gone right for the Hawks in this series.	I believe someone ordered pepperoni pizza and got sausage instead.	When they asked for decaf and got four goals instead.	Coach Q still dresses like he's head of a pyramid scheme, but other than that ...	Dustin Brown is unable to give us his full-smirky-douchey smile like normal.	Bryan Bickell hasn't lost any more teeth.
2	What is L.A. Kings goalie Jonathan Quick thinking right now?	"I think I can, I think I can ..." "Whoa, I swear it was 'There's a bathroom on the right.'"	"Oh, God ... I ate the bones!"	"Da duh duh, da duh duh, dada-dadaduh ... MAKE IT STOP!!!"	"Didn't I used to be good?"
3	How can the White Sox get back on track?	Hmmm ... hit and pitch better? Just sayin'.	It all starts with a healthy breakfast.	If the city is handling renovations, it may be a while before they're back on track.	Take extra grease from fan base's hair and use it as lubricant for new pitches!	Watch the Hawks. Take notes.
4	Why are the Cubs going to the West Coast for only two games?	It's better than going south for the whole season.	The scheduler was unsure where the Angels are located.	The sun rises in the east, and the Cubs get swept in the west.	Dale Sveum's allergies prevent a longer trip. He's allergic to anything dubbed "exciting."	California doesn't want to watch their sad show either.
5	Congratulate the Sky on starting the WNBA season 3-0.	Ladies! Sky is the limit! (I know that's corny.)	That's so cool since it's also their attendance range.	Congratulations, Sky! One victory per attendee!	Congratulations! Your reward is more games at the Allstate Arena!	Way to go! So that's where all the Sox fans are.

Bowl-o-rama!

The Big Ten is adding two more football teams, so naturally it needed one more bowl game.

The Pinstripe Bowl and the Big Ten Conference on Monday announced an eight-year agreement that will place a Big Ten team in the game from 2014-21. There was no immediate word which conference will provide the opponent.

The partnership will allow the Big Ten to have its first tie-in with a bowl played on the East Coast, with the Pinstripe held at New York's Yankee Stadium since its inception in 2010.

The Big Ten will expand from 12 to 14 members beginning in 2014, when the league adds Rutgers from the former Big East and Maryland from the ACC.

If you're having trouble keeping up with the conference's bowl affiliations, here's a refresher.

- » Little Caesars Pizza Bowl, vs. MAC, Detroit
- » Meneke Car Care Bowl of Texas, vs. Big 12, Houston
- » Buffalo Wild Wings Bowl, vs. Big 12, Tempe, Ariz.
- » TicketCity Bowl, vs. C-USA, Dallas
- » TaxSlayer.com Gator Bowl, vs. SEC, Jacksonville, Fla.
- » Capital One Bowl, vs. SEC, Orlando, Fla.
- » Outback Bowl, vs. SEC, Tampa, Fla.
- » Rose Bowl, vs. BCS team, Pasadena, Calif.

Jay-Z may be making a speedy addition to his Roc Nation Sports agency, philly.com reports. Philadelphia Eagles star DeSean Jackson split with superagent Drew Rosenhaus last week, and unnamed sources tell the site that Jackson only has eyes for Hova.

THE DIGIT

19 That's how many seasons Jason Kidd played before announcing his retirement from the NBA on Monday. For his career, Kidd averaged 12.6 points, 8.7 assists and 4.3 rebounds for the Phoenix Suns, New Jersey Nets, Dallas Mavericks and New York Knicks. Is that the Hall of Fame we hear calling?

THE FINISH LINE

- » NBA playoffs: Miami 99, Indiana 76 (Heat wins series 4-3) » White Sox at Seattle, late
- » NHL playoffs: Boston 6, Pittsburgh 1 (Boston leads series 2-0)

tvSUMMER TV PREVIEW*SHOW PATROL*Curt Wagner

* cwagner@tribune.com
 * @showpatrol

Summer isn't the season most people veg out on their couches, but that's exactly the reason many networks are getting more adventurous with their programming.

A beach-full of new shows and returning favorites are coming to keep your DVR occupied, but during this packed summer TV season, I'm most excited for the return of the action-adventure drama "Strike Back," which begins its third season at 9 p.m. Aug. 9 on Cinemax.

The upcoming season will see the fictional Section 20, an elite military black ops-counterterrorism unit within the British government, pursue a terrorist network with ties to an international drug ring. The new season offered new challenges for star Philip Winchester, who has been shot at, blown up and made to jump out of a helicopter while filming his role as Sgt. Michael Stonebridge. For the first time ever, the cast filmed extensive action scenes on boats and, unfortunately, in the waters of the Mtamvuna River in the KwaZulu-Natal province of South Africa, which stood in for the jungles of South America.

"Almost immediately we were kind of laid out with stomach bugs and sickness from the jungle. I mean, it was full on," Winchester told me by phone from Budapest, Hungary, where he is finishing up the season. "It was brutal. And the first week, we were just running through jungle and hijacking boats and swimming in this river.

"The first few weeks, it was a race between getting your close-up and going to the bathroom. So it was a very interesting way to start the season."

The show went on, however, and Winchester reports that the new season will be "bigger and badder than it's ever been."

While the agents of Section 20 travel from the jungles of Colombia to Beirut to Europe, you don't have to leave your couch for your own summer exploits. Here are 14 other shows coming to our screens this summer.

NO SUMMER PLANS? TV HAS AN ACTION-PACKED ROSTER OF ENTERTAINMENT ON DECK

Graceland

9 p.m. Thursday, USA

Star Manny Montana says this new drama is a cross between "New York Undercover" and "The Real World," but it's much grittier than the usual USA network fare. In it, undercover agents from the FBI, DEA and Customs live together in a beachfront house from where they launch covert investigations. Former Chicago resident Daniel Sunjata also stars.

In the Flesh

9 p.m. Thursday-Saturday, BBC America

In this somber three-part mini, zombies can be "cured" with medication that keeps their rabid tendencies at bay. But Kieren Walker (Luke Newberry) and other patients battling Partially Deceased Syndrome aren't exactly welcomed back home after having eaten their neighbors' brains. More than another zombie apocalypse thriller, "In the Flesh" is a surprisingly deep examination of fear, prejudice and the struggle for acceptance.

Ray Donovan

9 p.m. June 30, Showtime

Liev Schreiber stars as the title character, a Hollywood

The White Queen

8 p.m. Aug. 10, Starz

Based on Phillipa Gregory's historical "The Cousins' War" novels, this lush period drama revolves around the War of the Roses and is told from the perspective of three women challenging each other for the English throne. It's "Game of Thrones" without the dragons.

Under the Dome

9 p.m. June 24, CBS

Adaptations of Stephen King novels have been hit-and-miss on TV, but this 13-episode miniseries might have the goods. It will show viewers how crazy the inhabitants of Chester's Mill, Maine, get when it is sealed off from the rest of the world by an invisible dome.

Camp

9 p.m. July 10, NBC

NBC's new comedy might be about the Little Otter Summer Camp, but the 9 p.m. timeslot hints it isn't for kids. Rachel Griffiths stars as Mackenzie Granger, owner and director of the cash-strapped camp where nothing goes as expected.

The Bridge

9 p.m. July 10, FX

Two detectives, one from the U.S. and one from Mexico, must overcome prejudices, corruption and drug cartels to solve a series of grotesque murders along the El Paso-Juarez border. Diane Kruger plays the American and Oscar nominee Demian Bichir the Mexican.

Breaking Bad

8 p.m. Aug. 11, AMC

The journey of chemistry-teacher-turned-meth mastermind Walter White (Bryan Cranston) and his former student/current partner-in-crime Jesse Pinkman (Aaron Paul) comes to an end with eight episodes that are sure to be filled with violence, bloodshed and awesomeness.

Devious Maids

9 p.m. June 23, Lifetime

Yes, that title sounds a bit like "Desperate Housewives." That's because "DH" creator Marc Cherry adapted a Spanish-language telenovela into this dramedy about five housekeepers in Beverly Hills. Add in a murder mystery, and you've got pure soapy fun.

Reality escapes

This summer's new reality TV is all about adventure with new variations on "The Amazing Race" and "Survivor" competitions. Here are five, c.w.

The Hero

7 p.m. Thursday, TNT

Dwayne "The Rock" Johnson puts nine contestants through a variety of challenges and temptations to screw each other over and test their strength, courage, integrity and heroism.

Race to the Scene

8 p.m. Thursday, Reelz

Dolph Lundgren dresses as Forrest Gump and makes sexually suggestive quips as three teams of two attempt to complete movie-themed challenges for money.

72 Hours

8 p.m. Thursday, TNT

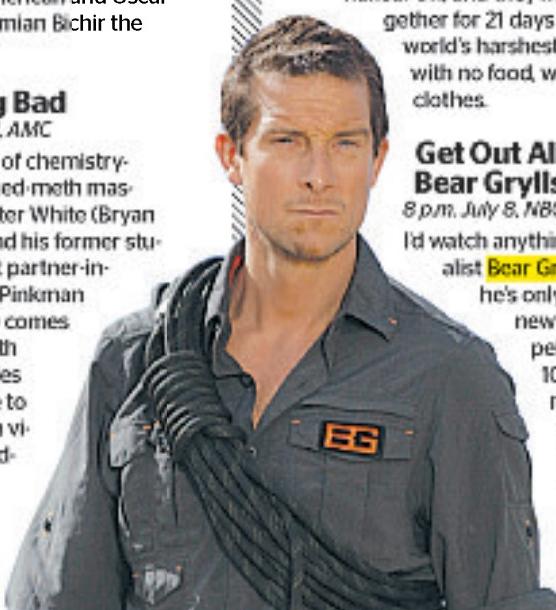

Each week three teams composed of three strangers are dropped off in a remote location and have 72 hours to work together to find a hidden briefcase full of money.

Naked and Afraid

9:20 p.m. June 23, Discovery

Each week a new pair of strangers face the ultimate challenge: seeing each other naked! Oh, and they must survive together for 21 days in some of the world's harshest environments with no food, water, tools or clothes.

Get Out Alive with Bear Grylls

8 p.m. July 8, NBC

I'd watch anything with survivalist Bear Grylls in it, but he's only hosting this new extreme competition in which 10 teams of two must survive the wilds of New Zealand's South Island and avoid elimination.

Say farewell to these TV favorites

By Curt Wagner | REDEYE

"Breaking Bad" isn't the only long-running series coming to an end this summer. (See Pages 16-17.) Get ready to say goodbye to these three favorites too.

Burn Notice

8 p.m. Thursday, USA

This sizzling summer treat has had a good run, but the sun is about to set on the action series. As the seventh season begins, the CIA offers ex-spy Michael Westen (Jeffrey Donovan) a deal he can't refuse. To save his family and friends, he must go deep undercover in the Dominican Republic and infiltrate the inner circle of a terrorist (Adrian Pasdar). His cover? He's an ex-spy putting together a living by bare-knuckle brawling.

Dexter

8 p.m. June 30, Showtime

Last season's jaw-dropping ending sets up a new set of problems for everybody's favorite serial killer, Dexter Morgan (Michael C. Hall). Not only does he have to deal with his sister, Deb (Jennifer Carpenter), who has gone off the rails after learning what he is, but a neuro-psychiatrist (Charlotte Rampling) working with Miami Metro might have figured him out.

Futurama

9 p.m. June 19, Comedy Central

Despite being canceled by Fox way back in 2003, Matt Groening's animated comedy about a group of 31st century oddballs was brought back to life and, by the time the seventh season ends Sept. 4, will have aired 140 episodes. The finale reportedly will feature the wedding of Philip J. Fry and his one-eyed lady love, Leela. Special guest stars include Larry Bird, Dan Castellaneta, Emilia Clarke, Sarah Silverman, George Takei, Adam West and Burt Ward.

10 ALBUMS AND 10 SHOWS WE CAN'T WAIT TO HEAR

RedEye Soundboard

If the summer's massive quantity of albums and concerts could beg audiences for attention, the sound would be overwhelming. Which records and shows are we excited for, without any outside pleading necessary? Glad you asked.

Pure Bathing Culture

Tuesday at Empty Bottle

The dreamy duo's full-length debut, "Moon Tides" (out Aug. 20), is twinkly without ever disappearing into thin air, and this is a great chance to discover someone new—and possibly let the songs' inherent romanticism help you find someone new at the show. —MATT PAIS

Kate Boy

June 10 at Schubas

The electro-pop quartet has never played in the U.S. before (one Australian and three Swedes comprise the group), but this show could be the first of many if the promise of tracks such as "The Way We Are" and "Northern Lights" counts for anything. —M.P.

Glen Hansard and members of The Frames

June 10 at Petrillo Music Shell

As someone who saw Hansard perform with Marketa Irglova as the Swell Season way back in '08, I kick myself every time I miss the opportunity to see him play with his original band. The Frames. I'm not nuts about the singer's solo album, but his voice and heart are perfect for the Millennium Park setting. —DANA MORAN

Robert Plant Presents the Sensational Space Shifters

July 12 at Petrillo Music Shell

Though I think Led Zeppelin has to tour again (they have to), for now this will be the closest we can get to hearing some of the band's classic material in its original voice. Free lawn seats and a remarkably limited opportunity make the Taste of Chicago crowds worth braving. —M.P.

The band's low-fi performance is always a fun time: drum machines, mixers, stacks of boomboxes and killer dance moves. —SARAH STEWART

Cults

July 27 at Wicker Park Fest

This adorable duo's sugar-sweet pop songs are perfect for a summer fest crowd. —ss.

D'Angelo

Aug. 6-7 at House of Blues

4 Yes, that $85 price tag is sizable, and no, there's been no recent news about the R&B singer's long-awaited follow-up to 2000's classic "Voodoo." It doesn't matter—as proven in his too-short opening set for Mary J. Blige last year at the United Center, D's still got a killer, funky live show and stage presence to spare. —M.P.

Riot Fest

Sept. 13-15 at Humboldt Park

5 Most of this lineup is a massive high-school flashback, but with Fall Out Boy (pictured), Blink-182, Brand New, Taking Back Sunday, Saves the Day and AFI on the menu, that's $60 I'm more than happy to spend to relive the past. And that's just the stuff I listened to when I was 17. Lolla can kiss this lineup's butt. —D.M.

Queens of the Stone Age, '...Like Clockwork'

Tuesday

I'd actually prefer Josh Homme devote time to the excellent supergroup Them Crooked Vultures with John Paul Jones and Dave Grohl. Well, at least Grohl guests on QOTSA's first album since 2007's "Era Vulgaris," and "Clockwork" offers a decent helping of rock attitude. —MP.

Camera Obscura, 'Desire Lines'

Tuesday

6 The two early songs released from this album sound starkly different: "Filth in Line to the Throne" is a sad heartbreak ballad while "Do it Again" is a delightful, swinging pop song. Both tracks remind us how precious Camera Obscura's sweet retro sound is and how we've missed it in the four years since "My Maudlin Career." —ss.

Surfer Blood, 'Pythons'

June 11

7 The sophomore slump is always tough to avoid. Will Surfer Blood suffer the same fate that countless buzz bands have endured with the group's first full-length album since 2010's breakout "Astro Coast"? Only time will tell. —EW.

The Lonely Island, 'The Wack Album'

June 11

8 While some music meant to be funny only works as one or the other, TLI (featuring Andy Samberg, Jorma Taccone and Akiva Schaffer) achieves both while expertly incorporating guests who don't dominate the track. That remains true as Solange appears on the hilarious "Semicolon"—though I'm still waiting for the punch line of "I [bleeped] My Aunt." —MP.

Jimmy Eat World, 'Damage'

June 11

9 Confession: I own "Bleed American" on vinyl AND still have my kickass Jimmy Eat World hoodie from Hot Topic. This all means I probably should've been paying more attention to the band's antics in the past 10 years, but what better time than now to tune back in? —DM.

In concert: Aug. 18 at Vic Theatre

Kanye West, 'Yeezus'

June 18

10 When you introduce your new single by projecting it on buildings across the globe, like Kanye did with "New Slaves," you're setting a pretty high precedent. It's the kind of stunt that's only topped by, oh, I don't know, making your new album title a mashup of your nickname and Jesus. Hey, after "My Beautiful Dark Twisted Fantasy," we're foaming at the collective mouth to see what 'Ye comes up with next. —DM.

Empire of the Sun, 'Ice on the Dune'

June 18

11 I picked up this electronic duo's 2008 debut "Walking on a Dream" based on the wonderfully ridiculous album art. The follow-up cover does not disappoint—a fantasy ice-scape featuring outrageous head gear. The first single, "Alive," also delivers: It's upbeat and dazzling from the first note. Sunshine pop at its best. —ss.

Dessa, 'Parts of Speech'

June 25

12 The Minneapolis singer/rapper deftly transitions from mellow, poetic storytelling to full-on bangers, never sacrificing her knack for detail that makes her work sound both universal and specific. —MP.

In concert: June 25 at Subterranean, Aug. 22 at First Midwest Bank Amphitheatre

Middle Class Rut, 'Pick Up Your Head'

June 25

The Sacramento duo finally follow up their explosive 2010 record "No Name No Color," one of the more underrated rock albums of the past few years. Thunderous and tighter than its predecessor, "Pick Up Your Head" will put hair on your knuckles and adrenaline in your veins. —MP.

In concert: June 25 at Subterranean, Aug. 22 at First Midwest Bank Amphitheatre

Pusha T, 'My Name is My Name'

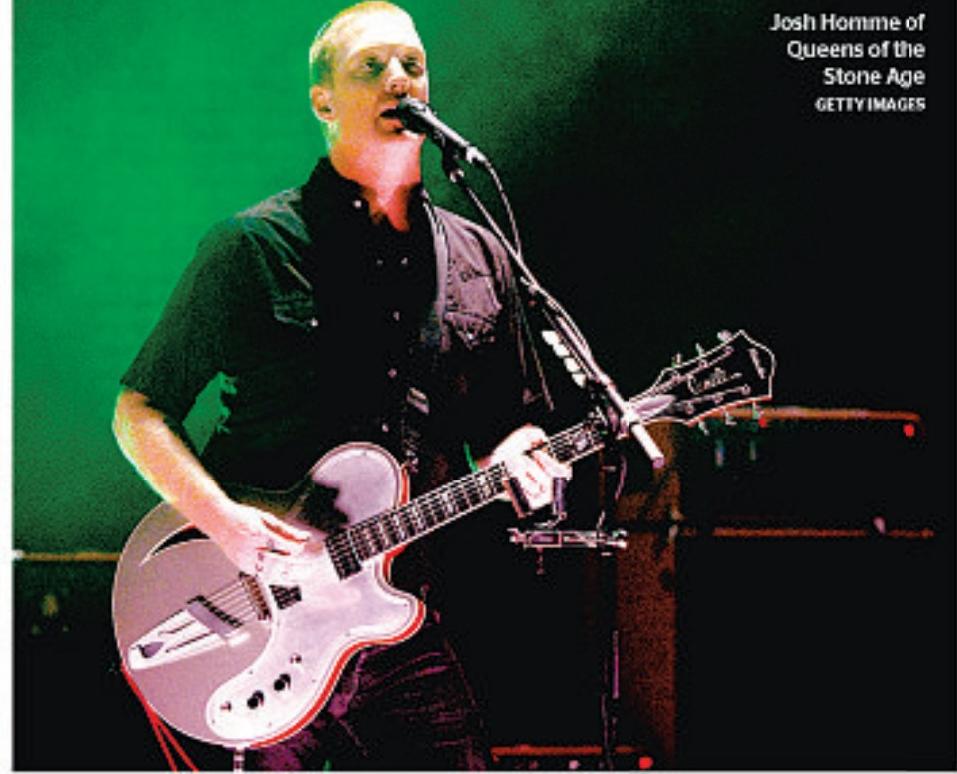

July 16

13 With Pusha T's new single, "Numbers on the Boards," gaining traction, we're excited to see whether the enforcer of the G.O.O.D. Music camp can continue balancing gaudy rhymes with gritty production. —EW.

ALBUM REVIEW

... Like Clockwork
Queens of the Stone Age

make sure you're on the same page as Josh Homme, the band's frontman and only permanent member. As hard rock has stagnated both creatively and commercially in the past decade, a marquee name such as QOTSA feels almost like it exists as an excuse to bring together anyone who's interested in making this type of heavy music.

Thus, "... Like Clockwork" includes contributions from QOTSA stringer Dave Grohl, erstwhile former member Nick Oliveri, the Arctic Monkeys' Alex Turner and even Elton John. There's also the newest band member, who doesn't technically play an instrument: the visual artist Boneface. Hey, if that jumbled assortment is what it

Queens of the Stone Age can be a difficult band to monitor. Not only has it been six long, side project-laden years since its last album ("Era Vulgaris"), but the revolving door nature of the group's lineup means that you may want to check Wikipedia to takes to put together a consistently solid album that sounds unmistakably like Queens of the Stone Age, as the band has done on its sixth album, that's great.

Such variety saves what could have been a project full of songs such as boring opener "Keep Your Eyes Peeled," which arguably is too on-the-nose as the type of chugging, stretched-out rock that the band is known for, or lead single "My God is the Sun," which sounds like a parody of overly dramatic hard-rock lyricism and sterile guitars.

Instead, the album is best when flirting with glam rock bombast on "Kalopsia" and "Fireweather Friends," limber funk on "Smooth Sailing" or the relatively upbeat rock of "I Sat By the Ocean." Meandering, introspective songs like the title track and "The Vampyre of Time and Memory" may grate on those who don't enjoy Homme's perpetually anguished voice, but they also serve as the album's thesis statements and emotional cores.

Tinged with bursts of guitar bravado, the songs are made to disarm, with lyrics like "to be vulnerable is needed most of all/if you intend to truly fall apart." Brooding, simmering and grandiose, these moments leave little doubt about the band's identity.

Jones puts tour, album on hold

Los Angeles Times

Sharon Jones has postponed her tour, including a June 25 date at the Ravinia Festival, after being diagnosed with Stage 1 bile duct cancer, the singer announced Monday.

According to a release issued by Jones' representatives, her illness was discovered early and has not spread but requires surgery. "It is expected that the immediate proposed surgical solution will lead to a full recovery, but because of its invasive and complex nature, will necessitate a rather lengthy convalescence," the statement read. The 57-year-old soul singer issued an upbeat response, saying she is already looking forward to getting back on the road with her band, the Dap-Kings.

"Over the last few weeks I haven't felt good and I didn't know what was going on. We sadly had to cancel shows while I went through a series of tests and short hospital stays. We just found out that I have a stage-one tumor on my bile duct. Luckily we caught it really early and fast and the doctors say it's operable and curable!

"I will be having surgery very soon and will have to rest and recover. I'll be staying in touch and keeping my fans and friends updated on my progress. I'm looking forward to getting back on the road to give the people what they want!"

Jones' illness forced the singer to cancel the release of a new album as well as a string of dates and festival appearances. The group's sixth album, "Give the People What They Want," was originally set for release Aug. 6.

Revered for her powerhouse vocals and fiery live showings, Jones, along with her band, helped usher in a movement of soul-funk revivalists and won acclaim for backing Amy Winehouse on her heralded 2006 breakout album, "Back to Black." Jones and the Dap-Kings' first album was released in 2002.

BOYS OF SUMMER

Which flick has the chops to be this year's 'Magic Mike'?

By Dana Moran | REDEYE

June 29, 2012, was a seminal day for fans of gyrating man-hips and suggestive eye-brow raises. "Magic Mike" opened in theaters, and the summer of 2012 was forever changed. And to everyone's shock, there was an actual PLOT to go along with all the pecs. Can any movie take "Magic Mike's" popularity throne this season? We took a look at eight possible contenders to see which might look best in a sequined man-thong. DAMORAN@TRIBUNE.COM | @REDEYEDANA; GETTY IMAGES

WANT MORE DIRT?

Oh, we've got dirt. Get the scoop on your favorite musicians, actors and reality TV stars all day long at redeyechicago.com.

THE DIGIT

3 MILLION

That's how many people tuned in Sunday to see Kim and Kanye's baby shower on "Keeping Up with the Kardashians," during which the couple revealed their future bundle of joy is a girl. It was the highest viewership number the show has recorded in three years, according to deadline.com.

"I'm on an extremely strict physical workout regimen. I want to get ripped."

—John Oliver, to The New York Times, on preparing to temporarily take over as host of "The Daily Show"

'Not hiding anything'

She's out! "Glee" actress Charice Pempengco revealed she is a lesbian Sunday on a talk show in her native Philippines, people.com reports. "To those who could accept, and who could accept me, thank you very, very much," she said. "I just want to say to all of you that I feel very light—that I can leave the house knowing I am not hiding anything."

Go Kings! (Or Hawks!)

With the Blackhawks facing the L.A. Kings, "Graceland" star Manny Montana has had a difficult time picking a team to cheer. Calling Chicago "my favorite city to visit," the Long Beach, Calif., native has fond memories of filming "The Chicago Code" here. "I [bleeping] love the city; it's just the best," he said Monday. Pressed to pick a side, he told RedEye: "Way to put me on the spot. I gotta root for the home team, but I'm really not going to be upset if Chicago wins."

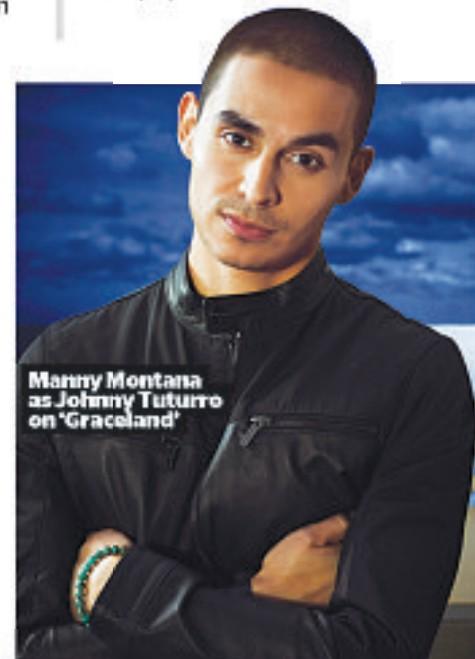

And the best TV show is ...

We're not sure if it's because "The Sopranos" kicked off the Golden Age of Pay Cable or because it introduced "gabagool" into America's vocabulary, but either way, the Writers Guild of America named the HBO drama the best-written TV series of all time. "The Wire," "The West Wing" and "Mad Men" also made the Top 10. Just goes to show you: white-male malaise and/or murder = awards.

HOT DATE

NOV. 7, 2014

That's the release date for "Interstellar," the next blockbuster from "The Dark Knight" director Christopher Nolan, deadline.com reports. The movie is a deep-space/time-travel thriller.
